What's New In Excel Export To Multiple HTML Files Software?

Excel Export To Multiple HTML Files Software is a program that allows you to export excel sheets to multiple HTML files. It is a useful program because it will enable you to choose the files you would like to have exported, the columns you would like to have the content exported in and the names you would like the exported files to have. All the files that will be exported will have the name of the file you are exporting as its name. Also, this program is able to include a section of the exported HTML files in the "main" HTML file, which will be able to be called, in turn, from any of the other HTML files. This section will be visible in the main HTML file, thanks to the #FILE_INSIDE_SECTION_HERE function.
